

Wulet - Swap your loyalty points

Store all your bonuses in one app and exchange them whenever you need!

The market value of loyalty points exceeds hundreds of billions

- In the meantime, the amount of expired unredeemed points exceeds $100bn in North America only
- Book value of loyalty points is about to reach $500bn in 2019

The majority of loyalty programs (LP) are inefficient

- Operational inefficiencies such as account inactivity, low redemption rates, low client retention rates and high acquisition costs are the main problems of loyalty programs
- Programs are not compatible with each other
- Customer activity is limited by offers of loyalty programs

WULET blockchain ecosystem allows to:

- Benefit from entering a “blue ocean” market of tradable loyalty (bonus) points
- Breathe new life into the “tired” concept of loyalty programs
- Receive data, which will allow to adjust loyalty programs strategy and increase ROI

54% of memberships in the US are inactive ¹

26% of users abandoned a loyalty program due to absence of smartphone app ¹

28% of users left a program without redeeming a single reward ¹

All of mentioned above resulted in more than $100 bn in points left unredeemed ¹

However, number of membership grows from year to year ²

Moreover, 87% of users are ready to provide of their activity in exchange for personalised offers ²
